Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation

May 2022

No Consideration of Sustainability Adverse Impacts

Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector ("SFDR") requires financial market participants to determine whether they consider the principal adverse impacts of their investment decisions on sustainability factors. Colchester Global Investors Limited ("Colchester") is supportive of the aim of this requirement which is to improve transparency to investors and the market generally as to how to integrate the consideration of the adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors. However, Colchester could not gather and/or measure all of the data on which it would be obliged by SFDR to report, or it could not do so systematically, consistently and at a reasonable cost to investors. This is in part because the information required to assess the adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors may not yet be fully available and/or not up to date. On this basis, and in the absence of the finalised regulatory technical standards relating to this disclosure, Colchester does not consider the principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors at this time. Colchester's position on this matter will be reviewed annually by reference to market developments.

Integration of Sustainability Risks in the Remuneration Policy

SFDR requires Colchester to include in its remuneration policy information on how its remuneration policy is consistent with the integration of sustainability risks. Sustainability risk is defined in SFDR as "an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or potential material negative impact on the value of the investment". The same information (or a summary of it) must be published on the Colchester's website.

A sustainability risk is an environmental, social or governance event or condition which, if it occurs, could cause an actual or potential material negative impact on the value of the investments made by Colchester.

Colchester's remuneration policy promotes sound and effective risk management and to avoid excessive risk taking and has been amended to be consistent with the integration of sustainability risks.
